SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

The target site is located in a predominantly land area described as an "undulating pine valley." The structures are comprised mainly of older, red buildings of simple architecture. Overhead perspectives that include the presence of a long, narrow building, a sort of passageway described as an "area of concentration" are attached as ENCLOSURES 1 thru 3.

The results of creative, S&T and R&D efforts are being applied in a multiplicity of military related applications in accordance with a determined plan of action.

"Loud incredible sounds and noises of various degrees can be heard and are associated with the target site." High degrees of energy and motion are associated with the site.

SUMMARY OF INFORMATION

Inside a long building at the targeted site, there is an apparatus which provides data and has computer characteristics. This is the principle area of concentration (see sketches). The apparatus scopes out, receives and deciphers, unknown air (elevated) activities such as; planes and other aircraft. It is similar to a kaleidoscope and is not radar related. However, this apparatus could "cramp" air vehicles because it releases a great amount of "motion energy". It can be directed against the stealth bomber's effectiveness by neutralizing it.
